tertained with a luncheon in the social hall of St. Rita's served by the

How to Save Current and Avoid Loss

The board of directors of the Chamber of Commerce has appointed an Electrical Advisory Committee to act during the temporary shortage of electricity. The committee is composed of the following members: J. D. Sparks, Chairman, G. I.
Farman, representing home consumers, and Col. Herman Hall, representing the orchardists.

The purpose of the committee is to keep in constant touch with the situation as it affects Sierra Madre;
to put the seriousness of the situation before the people of Sierra Madre; to study and recommend any regulations that might be deemed necessary in the conservation of electrical energy during the temporary shortage.

The committee met with Fred Schwartz, district manager of the Southern California Edison Company, at the Chamber of Commerce during the week and have the situation as it affects Sierra Madre well in hand.

It is believed that friendly cooperation will secure the desired results without serious difficulty for anyone. It is just as much the purpose of the committee to prevent injustice to any individual and to that end frank, friendly counsel is invited from all interested persons.

Mr. and Mrs. L. E. Steinberger
Jr., and family, loaded up the Willys-Knight with a camping outfit on Monday and left for a week's outing. They expected to enjoy life along the south coast near Laguna.

BAKER GIVEN LONG LEAVE FROM OFFICE

City Attorney Frederick Baker offered to resign at the last meeting of the city trustees, but his offer was not accepted. The trustees did not want to lose his services so they gave him a long leave of absence. His place will be filled in the interim by some attorney whose standing on matters of municipal law will be vouched for by Mr. Baker.

For some time Mr. Baker has been planning a lengthy trip through the northern and eastern states. He has resigned his position as attorney for all other cities, which he has served in that capacity. At Avalon they wanted him to continue and upon his refusal the city officials passed a handsome set of resolutions in appreciation of his services.

Mr. Baker is a deep student of Masonic lore, being a past master of Unity Lodge at Glendale and also having served as district inspector.
He proposes to make his journey a sort of Masonic pilgrimage, visiting lodges in as many jurisdictions as possible and visiting a number of places of particular interest in Masonic history.

Jones Family Expecting To Circle Nation

Realizing an ambition and plan of years' development, C. W. Jones of 49 East Alegria left on Saturday with Mrs. Jones and daughter, Virginia. They will spend several months in travel through the north and east, expecting to make the circuit of the nation before returning home. The trip is one Mr. Jones has promised himself and family for a long time, to follow the graduation of Miss Virginia from the University of Redlands this spring.

Going north along the coast, Mr.
Jones and his family will stop in Portland, and then continue north to enjoy the grandeur of the Canadian Rockies. They will travel eastward by the most northerly Canadian route, coming down to the Great Lakes. They will visit relatives in Michigan, Indiana and other states.

It is Mr. Jones' plan to buy a new car at one of the automobile centers, and continue their journey through the eastern states in leisurely fashion. A stay of a month or two in Washington, D. C., will be followed by an autumn trip through the New England states. He expects to ship the car home by water from the Atlantic Coast when New England weather seems inhospitable to Southern Californians. The return trip will also probably be made by steamer with stops at Havana and Panama. The good wishes of a host of friends will follow the travellers on their splendid trip.

BIG FEATURES FOR WISTARIA COMING WEEK

For a summer week when audiences might be expected to be scarce, Manager Brown has secured some strong attractions for the Wistaria.

Just what an "automatic chess player" is remains to be seen when
"White Tiger" comes to the Wistaria Theatre Saturday and Monday.
The automatic chess wizard, "the scientific marvel of the age," plays a big part in this Universal-Jewel screen drama which stars Priscilla Dean, and it can be imagined it's a crooked part from the fact that the story is an underworld plot.
"White Tiger" was written and directed by the same man as Miss Dean's older underworld success,
"Outside the Law." Tod Browning is the man.

Following features are Carmel Myers in "The Love Pirate" and "Thundering Dawn" with J. Warren Kerrigan and Anna Q. Nilsson.

Tomorrow's first installment of the "Santa Fe Trail" will be free to the youngsters. Don't miss it.

Post Banner Contributed By Mrs. Jones

No sooner was last week's issue of the News in the hands of the subscribers, than Mrs. Chloe Blakeman Jones, 102 North Hermosa, telephoned George Norris if she might have the privilege of presenting the post banner to Sierra Madre Post
No. 297 of the American Legion.
She had just read of the post being given an American Flag by Robert Mitchell in memory of his son, Lieut.
George G. Mitchell, and said she would like to give the banner in memory of her three brothers who served their country in the Civil War.

At the request of Mrs. Jones, Mr.
Norris notified the post officers and on Saturday morning Mrs. Jones placed a check for $100 in the hands of Harold F. Roberts, post adjutant.
This will pay for the banner and leave a small balance which Mrs.
Jones said the post should use as desired. The banner will be of heavy blue silk, with gold lettering, heavy gold fringe, regulation parade staff etc. To say that the post members were deeply touched by the splendid voluntary gift from Mrs.
Jones is putting it mildly.

Brother's Service
For the post records Mrs. Jones furnished the following data concerning the brothers whose services in behalf of the Union she wished to commemorate:

John William Blakeman, corporal of Co. A, 4th Michigan Cavalry, served from the beginning of the war until his death in hospital, Jan. 11, 1863. Buried in the National Cemetery in Nashville, Tenn.

Mason Allan Blakeman, Fifer Co.
D, 34th Ohio, the famous Platt Zouaves. Served through the entire war, excepting the first three months when he was rejected because of small size. He had many slight wounds, was captured and confined in Libby prison and finally lost a foot in one of the battles near Winchester. He was still in the hospital when peace was proclaimed. Died in 1908.

Sidney Oliver Blakeman, Co. E, 76th New York Infantry, served two years in the war. He was in many of the great battles, the battle of the Wilderness among them. He died on board a transport in the James River and is buried in the National Cemetery at Washington, D. C.

They were of a fighting stock.
One of their collateral ancestors, Stephen Hopkins, ten times colonial governor of Rhode Island, signed the Declaration of Independence. Another, Admiral Esek Hopkins, was commander in chief of the first Colonial Navy. John Paul Jones was first lieutenant of his flagship.

LOCAL AGENCY FOR WESTERN AUTO SUPPLY

Western Auto Supply Company
goods right here in Sierra Madre and at Los Angeles prices—that is what Milton Steinberger is offering his customers now. The Sierra Madre Garage is officially designated as the Sierra Madre dealer in this big line, so it is not necessary to go out of town after making selections from the catalog which every motorist receives through the mail periodically. Milt is an old friend of George Pepperdine, president of the Western Auto Supply. The latter preferred taking on the Steinberger garage as an agency to establishing one of their stores here.

Mr. and Mrs. Steinberger returned last week from a week's tour to Yosemite Valley and other places of interest. The Yosemite was so unattractive this year that they cut their stay short. The falls have dwindled to a ghost of their normal volume which makes them rather pathetic to people who are familiar with their usual glory.

Killian Says Resorts Get Unfair Deal

Sturtevant Camp, July 16. To the Editor:

The fire menace in the Sierra Madre Mountains: What is it? Is it any greater than in any previous year? No, it's no greater, if as great. The mountains are dry and they're always dry in the summer time. If we have fifty inches of rain during the winter the mountains are just as dry in the summer time as they are this year and the fire menace is greater because the grass and weeds grow more luxuriantly and furnish more fuel for fires.

What is the reason of this well organized plan to confiscate the business of the mountain-resort people?
If it's the Boulder Dam project and it's worthy, why not put the cards on the table for a show-down? I've been heartily in favor of the project in the past, but if they need to use false propaganda to promote it there surely must be a "nigger in the woodpile."

Justice is what we mountain people ask.

If, as one of our County Supervisors intimated, no decent people go to the mountains, I wouldn't blame the people for wishing them closed. This statement was made before our Welfare Commission. Is it the truth? I contend that the mountains are the greatest health resort in existence and, further, the moral standing of true mountain lovers is at least equal to that of the political demagogue.

Will your watershed be protected if we mountain folks are driven from our homes? Think of the hundreds of experienced people that we furnish to protect your interests.
I think statistics will show that the greatest majority of the fires are started along the State highways, along the front by careless cigarette smokers. Are you going to close the state highways or prohibit smoking by automobilists?

At a meeting of the "Southern Group of Citizens on Fire Emergency" at the Biltmore the other evening a resolution was unanimously adopted requesting the State and Federal forest officials to "immediately close all mountains to tourists and vacationists with the exception of a discretionary number of public hotels and resorts located on broad and safe mountain highways. That would be Americanism with a big
"A." The "A" standing for class legislation.

DAD KILLIAN.

Drive 1400 Miles Across Desert at 89

Driving 1400 miles in the course of a round trip across the desert to Fallon, Nevada, is something of a record for a man 89 years of age.
J. T. Railsback holds the honor of that achievement and has a right to be proud of it, even though his modesty prevents.

Mr. Railsback was accompanied by Mrs. Railsback and their daughter, Mrs. Agnes Tyree and they had a delightful visit at the home of Mrs.
Tyree's daughter in Fallon. They report intense heat on the desert and great relief upon returning to Sierra Madre. They took three weeks for the trip.

Secretary Louis D. Berg of the Chamber of Commerce, Mrs. Milton Steinberger and Mrs. Anna Brandt spent Monday in Hollywood attending the monthly meeting of the Commercial Secretaries Assn., of Southern California. They enjoyed a splendid series of addresses on civic themes, saw "The Thief of Bagdad" es guests of Sid Grauman, and had a fine barbecue dinner in Hollywood-land. The evening attraction was
"The Pilgrimage Play."

MASONS WILL GO TO VENICE FOR OUTING

All Masons of Sierra Madre and their ladies are invited to go to Venice next Tuesday afternoon, July 22, and evening, for swimming and dancing as guests of the Abbott Kinney Company. This delightful outing was arranged through the courtesy of Innis Kinney, a member of the lodge.

It will be a "go as you please"
affair so far as any program is concerned. Those who wish to swim in the plunge or the ocean should procure their tickets before leaving Sierra Madre at the office of Andrews and Hawks, 27 North Baldwin.

Dancing will take place in the evening, beginning at 7:30. A fine private ball room on the mezzanine floor of the big auditorium will be provided for the party. Tickets will not be necessary.

Arrangements have been in charge of D. C. Ashmore, senior warden of the lodge. E. L. Yerxa, the master, extends a cordial invitation to all Masons to join in the festivities.

Mrs. Stork Is New Head of Woman's Club

Mrs. Samuel Stork of 223 West
Laurel Avenue has been elected president of the Sierra Madre Woman's Club for the coming club year. The choice was made by the club board as provided in the by-laws, to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Mrs. W. J. Lawless after her re-election.

Mrs. Frank J. Hart of Hartwood, Sierra Madre Villa, was chosen vice president. She fills the vacancy resulting from the resignation of Mrs.
A. F. Snell.

The official roster of the club is now as follows:
President, Mrs. Samuel E. Stork.
1st Vice President, Mrs. F. J. Hart.
2nd Vice Pres., Mrs. H. T. Fennel.
Recording Sec., Mrs. E. E. Bacon.
Corresponding Sec., Mrs. J. Milton Steinberger.

Treasurer, Miss Eleanor Bayne.
Directors, Mrs. F. B. Seeley, Mrs.
John Osgood, Mrs. E. Sturmthal,
Mrs. W. E. Walker, Mrs. E. H.
Carpenter, Mrs. Elmer Green, Miss Ruth Klemme.

The newly constituted board met at the club house on Wednesday to complete their organization. A most optimistic spirit prevailed and all are looking forward to a splendid year's work.

That Mrs. Stork would consent to take office as head of the club was cause for deep gratification to her many friends and admirers. They feel that her gracious personality and high mental attainments cannot but bring honor to the club. Last year she served as president of the Pasadena Browning Club. She has ever been keenly interested in the Sierra Madre club and cordial and united support is expected from all members of the club.

SILVERMAN IS OFFERING BIG BARGAINS NOW

How Max Silverman gets so much merchandise into so small a store would be a puzzle for the average storekeeper. But the goods are there and he wants to get rid of a lot of them quickly. So he has announced a big one-week clearance sale with prices cut away down to bedrock.

"These shirts and underwear and hosiery are going positively below cost," says Mr. Silverman. "I've got to have money in place of so much merchandise. All I want the people to do is to come in and see for themselves. I know they will buy if they will only come in and see the values I'm offering for this one week."

Buildings Are Promised For Near Future

Edwin P. Whitney, owner of a lot on West Central, announced yesterday that he would erect a new store building at once. The building will occupy the full 20 feet of frontage and will be occupied by a store to be started by a local man. Mr. Whitney said he was not at liberty to tell the name of the man nor the line of business to be conducted by him.

The new building will be just west of the Goldring block which adjoins the San Seelig store now near completion. Seelig has also leased the Goldring block, it is understood, in order to control the tenancy and also probably with a shrewd belief that it will soon bring a higher rental with development of additional business on West Central.

On Baldwin Too

Another new block with two store rooms and two stories high, is promised for the east side of Baldwin Avenue, just north of the Olsen shoe store. Morris Alexander, a recent arrival in Sierra Madre, says he has decided to locate here and go into the jewelry business, occupying one room of the new building and renting the rest. Mr. Alexander is a retired jeweler, formerly in business in New York and in Palm Beach, Florida. He is feeling so much better in Sierra Madre than he has for some time before coming here that he thinks he can stay idle no longer.

These two building announcements illustrate again the degree to which the business district is anchored by the intersection of Central and Baldwin Avenues. It has happened repeatedly that new development on one street or the other seemed to be taking the lead. A counter development always follows. The intersection of the two main arteries of traffic seems to establish a focal point from which all lines of business activity must radiate.

Electric Sign Project Near Realization

The electric signs to be erected by the Chamber of Commerce on Foothill Boulevard, one at Baldwin Avenue and one at "Sierra Madre Avenue, will be in place between August 1st and 15th.

The Chamber of Commerce Electric Sign Committee composed of F.
A. Pagenkopf, O. E. Emley, Frank L. Lovell and Rudolph R. Hartman have completed their study and investigation of the sign proposition and are about ready to report to the Chamber of Commerce board of directors who will then award the contract.

Both signs will be high class in every particular. There will be nothing cheap in their design or construction. While the signs will not be lighted for some time to come,
still they will accomplish a great deal of good for Sierra Madre during the day hours. They will also be plainly visible in the light of auto lamps.

FIND DESERT HARD ON TIRES

City Trustee Earl Topping and Marshal A. M. Udell left Friday for a motor trip into Nevada. They expected to return yesterday but some delay is likely as they wired home for some new tires, presumably made necessary by the rough going encountered along the way. During their absence Carlton J. Pegler has assumed Mr. Udell's duties as marshal, street superintendent, building, plumbing and electrical inspector, license collector and dog catcher.

Gilbert S. Keys was appointed night watchman by Mr. Udell just before he left.

CENTENARIAN CELEBRATES DAY GAILY

Lewis Benedict Reed, father of Palmer T. Reed who was a Sierra Madre pioneer, celebrated his 100th birthday on Friday at the home of the latter in Eagle Rock. The elder Reed was at one time vice-president of the American Surety Company. He was a graduate of New York University in the class of 1843 and is the only living member of the class. Incident to his birthday he received many messages from former associates in business in the east, as well as from Chancellor Brown of the University. Ten cigars a day and a stiff jolt of port wine were announced as his regular portion and not as a mere celebration.

There are now four generations of the Reed family. A grandson,

Lewis F. Reed who is also a resident of Eagle Rock, held open house on Sunday, and with his family assisted in receiving callers in honor of his grandfather.

The Reed home in Sierra Madre was the big house at Mt. Tara or El Reposo which was burned two or three years ago. There Palmer T. Reed operated a boarding house and hotel.

Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Bennett and family of N. Auburn are spending a few weeks at Long Beach.

Smith W. Loggins has taken a position at the head of the credit and collection department of the Pasadena Star-News.

Mrs. James McMaster of Columbus, Ohio, is visiting at the home of her niece, Mrs. W. A. Tate.

DESERT of the EXODUS

Jebel Sufsa, Mountain of the Law.

Prepared by the National Geographic Society, Washington, D. C.

Of all the deserts of the earth the one most read about undoubtedly is the desert of the Hebrew Exodus, the Sinai peninsula that lies between Egypt and Palestine; but its modern aspect is little known. As the crow flies, the distance from the north end of the Red sea, where the Children of Israel are supposed to have crossed, to Jerusalem, is only 200 miles; but the narrative of the wanderings in the wilderness indicates that paths were doubled many times and that the wanderers passed far beyond their objective before turning south again. The most crooked route that has been suggested measures perhaps 1,200 miles. It seems almost absurd, if one has read Biblical story casually, that the wanderers could have consumed 40 years—making this journey. But a closer reading of the narrative discloses that the actual travel was accomplished in about two years and that 38 years were spent in camps near Mount Hor and Kadesh.

The Bible record is complete as to the route of the Exodus, but many fail to realize this because the history of the journey is scattered through six of the Old Testament books, the record changing back and forth from one place to another nearly 100 times.

In general it may be said that the first section of the route from Raamses to Sinai is known perfectly and the recovery of most of the ancient names simply a matter of time. The fourth and last section of the route from Elath, on the Gulf of Akabah, to Jericho is also well known, and it is of enchanting interest to note that on this section all the most prominent towns mentioned in the books of Exodus and Numbers retain their ancient names till this time.

Loop Section Little Known.

The loop section of the route from Ezion-geber into the Wilderness of the Wandering and back to Elath is the least well-explored portion. It contains the well-known names of Kadesh Barnea and Mount Hor, where Aaron died and was buried. Thirty-eight years of the journey were spent about Kadesh, and it is here, if anywhere, the actual remains of the Exodus will some day be found. The site of Kadesh Barnea has been made the subject of dispute, but it is almost certain that the modern Ain Kadis, with its copious spring, several wells and pools, is really the ancient Kadesh. An equally vigorous dispute still continues concerning the identification of Mount Hor.

The Peninsula of Sinai, within which lies the first two sections of the route, is that triangular region between the two arms of the northern end of the Red sea. A line drawn from Suez to Akabah, a little town at the head of the gulf of that name, a distance of 150 miles through the desert, forms the northern side of the triangle. The other two sides are bounded by the Gulf of Suez and the Gulf of Akabah. The Gulf of Suez, the longer arm, sweeping toward the southeast for a distance of about 200 miles, lies in the troughlike depression which separates Africa from Asia, and together with the Suez canal forms one of the greatest waterways of the earth. The other arm, the Gulf of Akabah, extends north by west for 140 miles, being a continuation of the most remarkable rift upon our planet, that of the Dead sea and the Jordan valley.

The area of this triangle, the peninsula proper, is a little less than 10,000 square miles. It is one vast desert relieved by a few oases along the sea-coast and deep among the network of rocky valleys. In the north and along both sea-coasts are vast stretches of sand which forever shift before the winds from land and sea. Further inward are stony plateaus and great wastes of sand glistening with salt.

Sinai Range Is Impressive.

But just south of the center of the peninsula, like a great lighthouse between the continents, rises the huge granite range of Sinai to a height of over 8,500 feet. The triple peaks of Serbal (8,730 feet), Musa (7,983 feet), and Catharine (8,536 feet) all lie within a circle whose diameter is not more than 25 miles. Geologically this mass of primeval gneiss and granite, or in more precise terminology, of colorless quartz, flesh-colored feldspar, green hornblende, and black slate, is a most impressive sight. Since remotest times these crystalline masses have undergone no geological changes, but have reared their summits above the ocean, unaffected by the transitions that have so completely changed the face of the planet elsewhere.

Only at their bases do these mountains show any traces of alteration where the waves and the winds of the ages have crushed and ground their fadeless elements into the colored sands which filled the geological gulfs and bays of the Jordan rift and made possible the beauties of Petra and all that region. Rising majestically from the encircling setting of desert and sea, the whole mass is cleft and shattered into a fascinating tangle of sub-line valleys, towering cliffs, awful precipices, and magnificent peaks which roll like billows far up into the crystalline blue of the heavens.

From Suez to Sinai.

The route from Suez to Sinai is a nine days' journey on camels. Travelers usually make a short half day to the Wells of Moses, the first oasis four hours beyond Suez. Then follows a waterless tract of three days' journey to Elim, with its wells of water and its palm trees.

Two days beyond Elim are the famous turquoise mines of Meghara, where the Egyptians mined as early as the Fourth Dynasty (2500 B. C.), more than 4,500 years ago, and left a curious collection of rock carvings and tablets which have been of priceless value in their bearing upon Egyptian chronology.

Two days beyond the mines lies the oasis of Firan, rightly designated The Pearl of Sinai, the most fertile tract and one of the most interesting spots in the whole peninsula.

Past Firan the road crosses a watershed at 3,900 feet and makes a slight descent before the last climb over Nakh el-Hawa to the Plain of er-Rahah, which most scholars have regarded as the camping place of the Israelites while waiting for the giving of the law. Here is the mountain which, according to the Bible, was enveloped in clouds and lightning reverberating with thunder, a mountain that could be touched, while Moses tarried on its summit and the people waited below.

Just to the left of this peak, Jebel Sufsa, is the valley of the Deir, in which stands the monastery of St. Catharine. This picturesque monastery standing in a sublime valley of the Sinai group occupies the site of a fort built by Emperor Justinian in 527 A. D. It is a hoary pile of old buildings, entirely enclosed by a high wall, on one side of which toward the mountain a few old rusty cannon still do sentinel duty. A lower wall encloses the adjoining delightful gardens which have been wrung by incessant toil from the rocky mountain side below. The fortress-monastery has witnessed many a thrilling event in history, has withstood many an attack and siege, and bears the marks inside and out of its stormy history.

The great shrine is Jebel Musa itself, the Mountain of the Law, which rises 2,350 feet above and behind the monastery. The pilgrimage steps, said to be 3,000 in number, are broken at many points, but still form an impressive ascent to the noble mountain top. There is a shrine to the Virgin Mary and a chapel to the Prophet Elijah on the way up.

Beyond Sinai, the route of the Exodus, within the peninsula, is fixed beyond peradventure by the configuration of the valleys, the one or two well-known locations and the water supply.

Turning out of Wady esh-Sheikh through a side valley one reaches a divide beyond which the country changes instantly. A wide plateau shows signs of vegetation, where graze hundreds of camels and thousands of sheep, lambs and she asses. The whole skyline takes on a softer, smoother look, and the sides and bases of the mountains lose the sharp, forbidding aspect of Sinai. Farther on is the oasis of Ain Hudherah where Aaron and Miriam spoke against Moses because he had married a Cushite woman.

Between Hazeroth and Ezion-geber lie the still unsolved portions of the problem and route of the Exodus. After reaching the shore of the Red sea, they turned northward, and for 38 years roamed about the neighborhood of Kadesh. Into this Wilderness of the Wandering explorers are now penetrating, and a few years hence we shall have as good maps and details of it as we have of the other sections of the route.

Acute Power Situation On Whole Coast

California now seems thoroughly awake to the emergency which its communities are combatting by concerted action under the direction of H. G. Butler, Power Supervisor appointed by the State Railroad Commission.

The need of immediate and sustained grappling with problems arising out of the widespread drought conditions is vividly shown by a survey made by Mr. Butler's office. This survey reveals that the drought, while in some respects most acute in its general effects in California, extends far beyond the borders of the state. U. S. Government geological reports from as far east as Boise, Idaho, and north to Tacoma, Washington show that the "driest season in fifty years" has resulted in "streams at unprecedented low levels." Boise, even with its new storage project, expects to out of water by August first.

Oregon Also Dry

At Portland the supply of one reservoir is exhausted, and little is left for Klamath River power plants in Northern California, the reports show. The Idaho Falls office is doing all it can to promote conservation for "the bulk of the dry summer that is still ahead."

In California the last previous drought, in 1919, was the worst in more than forty years. This year's is perhaps 25 per cent worse than that. Powers plants formerly putting out 40,000 H. P. are now down to 10,000. Although every available steam plant has been pressed into service at maximum capacity, Southern California is faced with the necessity of cutting out its present rate of consumption drastically in order to avoid 200,000 H. P. of plants becoming inoperative through drying up of the streams.

Lake Dwindles

Huntington Lake, the great storage reservoir of the Edison Company had 88,000 acre feet of water last year. This quantity has shrunk to less than 17,000 at the present time.

The fall of mountain streams has decreased at an alarming rate within ten days, and those supplying Huntington Lake are entirely without water. Normal draft on this storage has been 250 to 300 acre feet per day. This must be cut to 75 acre feet daily in order to make it last through the year.

The inflow of water into Huntington Lake from June 15 to July 6th inclusive in the year 1923 and during the same period of 1924 tells its own story of the conditions at that reservoir of hydro-power.

Till Winter Comes

Not over 75 acre feet of water a day can be used at Huntington Lake if the 160,000 H. P. plants supplied by lake water are to be kept in service for the purpose of supplying peak loads. If the lake water is exhausted before September, about one-half of the Edison's generating capacity will be out of service until snow melts in the spring, and then there will have to be a 50 per cent curtailment of energy all along the line.

25 per cent reduction for the balance of July, August and September and October will mean the saving of sufficient water in Huntington Lake to carry through the balance of the season with little, if any, restrictions after December.

The optimistic note in the situation is the fine response that is being made to the appeal of the Supervisor of Power acting for the state Railroad Commission, and the intensive efforts of the Edison Company, the Los Angeles Gas and Electric Corporation and the Los Angeles Bureau of Power and Light to augment the service shortage of hydro-electric power.

Steam plants totaling 180,000 H. P. are now under construction by Edison and the Los Angeles Gas and Electric Corporation. Long Beach steam plant is being doubled and at the present time that plant and the big one at Redondo Beach are being pressed so hard that they are using for fuel as much natural gas as the entire city of Los Angeles consumes, besides 3,000 barrels of oil daily.

In addition to these items of expansion, 55,000 H. P. in water power plants and the development of additional water supply for present plants has been under way for three years by the Edison Company.

The completion of these plants during the coming fall and winter insure an adequate supply of power after the present emergency.

It is all up to the big and small consumers to see that this period is tided over, and they are assured that by the first of the year, or soon after, Southern California will be placed quite beyond the possibility of a recurrence of the present shortage.

PEST CONTROL VITAL TOPIC FOR GROWERS

Completing preliminary steps already underway, citrus growers of southern California will launch an inter county Citrus Growers Department of the Farm Bureau at the Southern California Citrus Institute and Pest Control School in Pasadena Friday and Saturday, July 18 and 19.

W. A. Johnstone of San Dimas will discuss the need for such a department during the program of the Pest Control School Saturday morning. The representatives of the different counties will meet during the noon hour for final permanent organization. In taking this step the citrus growers are following in the steps of the walnut growers and the poultry raisers, who already have such departments and are attacking their problems from an industry point of view not limited by county lines.

BIG ILLINOIS PICNIC SOON

Are you one of the 300,000 suckers of the Illinois brand in Southern California? Then this is your call to the mammoth picnic reunion, all day, Saturday, July 26th, 1924, Bixby Park, Long Beach, by the sea.

The loyal Illinoisans of all the Southland are invited. From over 200 towns they will come to see you. By thousands they will rally for old times sake.

County registers open all day, badges, buttons, coffee, basket dinners, or you can buy dinner there, program of music and addresses, jolly good time. Henry J. Brubaker will preside and lead these songs.

Mrs. Amy Leggett who spent last winter in Sierra Madre suffered a severe loss in the burning of her camp resort on the Saranac River in the Adirondacks of New York, which occurred June 29. Friends in Sierra Madre have received copies of the newspapers telling of the fire, the cause of which was unknown.

Mrs. Leggett and her camp guests had started for an all day trip to Saranac Lake and no one was at the camp when the fire started. The camp had been refinished and newly furnished at the opening of the season and was regarded as one of the most attractive in that region. The loss was estimated at $10,000.

JUST OPINIONS

YOU CAN'T PLAY A LONE HAND

"Live and Let Live" was a fine motto for a by-gone age. It represented a big advance over the time when every man thought his own welfare depended on the destruction of his neighbor. But just to let the other fellow exist, is not enough. No man is up to date in his thinking who does not "Live and Help Live."

DROPPING THE SCHOOL BARNACLES

We get into the habit of looking to the National Educational Association for expressions of advanced thought on school matters. One speaker at the recent Washington meeting started out to reform school arithmetic in a manner that would appeal both to the small boy and the business man who remembers how many useless things he studied to the exclusion of practical matters. He proposed to eliminate such old favorites as apothecaries' weights, troy weights, complex and compound fractions, foreign and domestic exchange, true discount, trapezoids, trapeziums and the like. But he slipped a cog when he banned the metric system. Another generation or two and that will be the universal system of measurement.

WHAT IS YOUR GUESS?

At the moment of writing this paragraph there are estimated to be 334,427 Fords registered in California. The News will give a ticket to the Wistaria Theatre for the best estimate of the number at the moment you read this.

MOUNTAIN FIRE HYSTERIA

In times like these it seems necessary for the public to be hysterical over something or other. Just now it is the forest fire menace. Readers of the News for the years past will hardly accuse this paper of lack of interest in forest protection, both for the beauty of the mountains and for water supplies. Therefore, a word of protest on the present agitation may not bring down charges of a bolshevik attitude toward authority or the public welfare.

Much is read and heard about closing the mountains to the public. Public officials should go mighty slow in such a policy. The mountains vie with the sea as Southern California's most valuable outing asset. The camps and resorts in the mountains are one of the greatest attractions to tourists and to permanent residents alike.

If the mountain resorts constituted a fire menace they ought to be closed summarily. But do they? They do not! Such fire hazard as they create is more than offset by the safeguards they afford. If you disagree, consider the records. Have fire ravages increased in recent years in proportion to the growth of resort business and the free use of the mountains by the public? They have not.

The number of individual fires has undoubtedly increased. But the areas burned have been much smaller because the presence of people to fight the fires and of trails giving access to the fires have facilitated fire fighting. It is true large areas have been burned over. But these extensive fires have been for the most part in remote sections rather than near the resort and cabin districts which are most popularly used.

Are fire conditions worse in the nearby mountains than they usually are at this season? Not a bit; less if anything. There is a great confusion over the shortage of water and the fire menace. The mountain streams are low, or even dry. But streams do not put out fires. The streams are low because of short rainfall last winter. For the same reason vegetation did not get its normal growth, so there is actually less inflammable material in the mountains than usual.

Considering all these factors, it is to be hoped the hysterical tendency over the fire situation will not be allowed to cause injury to a business as important as that of the resorts, and at the time deprive thousands of people of the pleasure of the most wholesome outdoor playground in Southern California.

Once Hated, Now Loved

DEATH and the passing of time dwarf the petty jealousies of the campus. Princeton's alumni body, once the foe of Woodrow Wilson, recently hailed him as the first son of the great New Jersey university says the Hemet News.

The fact that his successor is planning to carry on the fight against the exclusiveness of campus life is the sincerest of all tributes which have been paid to Wilson's memory. Fourteen years ago Woodrow Wilson was hated by a large and influential body of alumni. Six years ago he was hated by a 7,000,000 majority in the nation. Yet four and one half months after his death his bitterest foe, Henry Cabot Lodge, is officially cold-shouldered by the Republican party and his old enemies at Princeton lead the movement to put the university in step with the rest of the nation.

Both the university and the United States have thus tardily come to realize that Wilson loved them with a deep faith in their destiny and their qualities of leadership. The only sin he committed was to be ahead of the thoughtless. And they, many years late, have at last begun to catch up with him.

GUESTS LEARN OF BETROTHAL AT LUNCHEON

The engagement of Miss Gladys E. Walker, daughter of Mrs. W. E. Walker of Sierra Madre to Charles B. Klunk, Jr., son of Charles Klunk, Sr., of 142 Santa Anita Court, also of this city, was announced at a unique luncheon, Saturday, July 12, at their home at 650 West Montecito Avenue.

A profusion of larkspur and sweet peas decorated the rooms, carrying out the color scale of blue and white. The table held a large basket of shaded larkspur and blue candles. The news was announced by a betrothal card enclosed in a mail pouch carried by a kewpie mail man set at each plate. Places were laid for eighteen. Bridge and mah jongg were enjoyed on the porch later.

The guests included the Misses Martha Gysin, Marion Kenniston, Irene Myers, Emma Lehman, Coralie and Bernadette Brown, Berdie Bright of Los Angeles, Harriet Wright, Mable Short, Reeta Walker of Pasadena, Mrs. Ed. Hart, Mrs. Ralph Stover, Mrs. Hall Perry and the Misses Mary Jameson, Elizabeth Ferris, Mattie Seely of Sierra Madre, and Mrs. Eugene Holliger of Glendale.

Miss Walker is a member of the Phi Delta Omega Sorority and a graduate of the Pasadena High School of the class of '21. Mr. Klunk is also a graduate of that class.

WOODING-WILSON

A pretty wedding of the past week was that of Miss Pearl Wooding to Harry Wilson, both of Bakersfield which took place at the home of Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Reavis, Sierra Madre. Rev. Abberly of the First Christian Church of Pasadena officiated.

The ceremony was performed under an arch of ferns and sweet peas, in the presence of the family and friends. The bride's gown was of white canton crepe, her veil was held in place with a wreath of orange blossoms and she carried an arm bouquet of Ophelia roses and sweet peas.

Mrs. John B. Friesen, sister of the bride, attended as matron of honor, and wore apricot georgette crepe and carried pink sweet peas. Theodore Hand of Bakersfield served his friend as best man. At the conclusion of their wedding trip, spent in San Francisco, Mr. and Mrs. Wilson will receive their friends in the new home prepared by the groom at 728 Quincy Street, Bakersfield.

PARKERS MAKE LENGTHY TRIP

After a two week's motor trip, going as far as Eureka, the H. C. Parkers are at home again. One of the most interesting things they did was to visit their son Donald whose musical interests are professionally engaging his summer days and evenings at Brockway, Lake Tahoe.

Mr. and Mrs. Parker went up the eastern route, going through the Feather River and Mt. Lassen section, crossing over to Eureka and returning along the coast.

FINE VISIT AT SALT LAKE CITY

Mrs. F. A. Lindlof joined Mr. Lindlof a week ago Wednesday for a trip to and several days stay at Salt Lake City. Since their return on Tuesday neighbors making friendly calls are enjoying the description of their many interesting adventures in the famous tourist town. They found Salt Lake a wonderful city and greatly enjoyed the many points of interest, including a dip in the lake.

No Short Cut to Success

There is no easy road or short cut to success. It means constant hard work and saving, and many sacrifices. However, the ultimate satisfaction of having accomplished something or having succeeded is greater than all the so-called pleasures indulged in by the lazy man or the spendthrift.—Secretary of the Treasury Mellon.

Automatic Lighting

Small stations along the lines of big western railroads, which do not have night agents, are lighted at the approach of the train and the lights extinguished at its departure by means of automatic switches placed at short distances from the buildings.

JAIL SENTENCE FOR COLLISION WHILE DRUNK

Monrovia News:—Sunday morning at 10:30, Romalle Cerreras, of Sierra Madre, in company with Angel Garcia, drove an automobile into an auto owned by M. E. Gates, of Monrovia, while it was standing at the side of the road on Duarte Road, east of California and Mountain Avenues. The Gates machine was occupied by Mrs. Gates, her mother, and her three children.

Both machines were completely wrecked and the occupants of both cars suffered bruises and minor injuries, but none were seriously hurt.

Cerreras who was driving the car was in an intoxicated condition. He was placed under arrest and taken before Judge Durrell, of Azusa last evening where he pleaded guilty to driving an auto while drunk and he was fined $100 and 90 days in the county jail. In default of the fine he will be required to serve 100 days in jail in addition to the jail sentences.

OHIO CLAN GATHERS

In honor of Mrs. John Schlatterer who is spending the summer with Mrs. Laura Cline of Sierra Madre Canyon Park, the O. D. Hunt family came over last Saturday for a Pergola Picnic. # YOSEMITE ECONOMY RUN RECORDS prove ZEROLENE increases gasoline mileage

For years this Company has claimed that Zerolene, because it lubricates better, enables the average car to go about five per cent farther on a gallon of gasoline than when other oils are used.

A few weeks ago this claim received the most remarkable confirmation in the results of the annual Los Angeles-Camp Curry (Yosemite) Economy Run. Six out of the seven trophies offered, including the sweepstakes, were won by Zerolene-lubricated cars. The sweepstakes winner, an Overland Model 92, driven by Joe Bozzani, traveling the 400 miles of desert and mountain roads, averaged 29.36 miles to the gallon of Red Crown gasoline—an achievement which the 1924 contest rules made all the more remarkable as they forbade coasting or stopping the engine.

Right here, in the official records of this economy run classic, is your answer to the oil question. Why pay tribute to the superstition that eastern oil, merely because it costs more and is made in the East, is in some mysterious way "better?" Experienced drivers, out to make records, don't share that superstition—why should you?

Arcadia Has Another Oil Project Now

Possibilities of a second and even greater attempt to discover oil in the vicinity of Arcadia and establish this as an important new petroleum field in Southern California loomed in sight with the announcement that Arthur W. Savage, New York and San Diego millionaire, now at his ranch in Duarte, is negotiating for the lease of somewhere from 65 to 200 acres of Arcadia land lying south of Duarte road and in the approximate vicinity of the leases of the Vosburgh Petroleum Company.

The first tangible steps in the securing of leases on all or a great part of the land in south Arcadia section which is not already under lease to the Vosburgh Company were taken at a meeting held at the home of William P. Davis, 1820 South Santa Anita Drive. Mr. Savage was present at this meeting and laid his general plan before a number of the owners of land in that vicinity. Enthusiastic endorsement of the plan as outlined was given by the owners.

Vosburgh Progress

Enthusiasm in oil circles in and about Arcadia has been greatly revived with this announcement and the simultaneous word released from the Vosburgh Petroleum offices that drilling was again under way at their well with the most encouraging of showings. Latest reports from the Vosburgh well were that a depth of 3465 feet at noon Friday. Drilling was recommenced Wednesday with an eight inch casing the entire depth of the well.

Mr. Savage has since its infancy been a big stockholder in the Vosburgh well. Mr. Savage is the millionaire gun and automobile tire manufacturer and is well known as a student and operator in the oil world.

Bound to Find Oil

Just when a new well would be gotten under way would rely in great measure on a number of circumstances, it was stated. Should the Vosburgh well be brought in drilling would be commenced almost immediately which commencement would not be delayed long even should the Vosburgh projects remain only "promising." Even in the event that the wildcat now under way failed entirely, it would be Mr. Savage's intention to dig within a period of not longer than two years. He will make all leases read this way.

It is understood that should the Vosburgh well for any reason not prove successful another big company will commence drilling of another well in Arcadia immediately also. Several other companies hold leases in the vicinity at the present time, although it is declared the greater portion of the land in the vicinity is as yet unleased.

F. W. Crandall left Sierra Madre for Los Gatos on Monday with the remains of his son, Eugene, who passed away on the 8th. Mrs. Crandall and Harold left by auto on Saturday and all will meet at Los Gatos. After the burial has taken place they expect to stop at Santa Cruz for a month, and later are expected to return to Southern California to reside. They all wish to express appreciation to the friends in Sierra Madre whose kindness has meant so much to them.

Torture by Shampoo

"The next time one of those fellows comes in the office selling 5-cent pencils for a dime," said Bill Podge, according to the New York Sun and Globe, "I'm going to ask him where he gets his printing done. Those cards that say, 'I lost my hearing after an attack of hangnails,' you know. They can't be very expensive."

"I need about 500 of them for the barber shop across the street. I don't know how you boys feel about it, but I hate to have my scalp iced after a shampoo. I've told Angelo so a thousand times, but it's no use. The minute he gets me at an advantage, with my head down in the washbowl and one eye full of soap, he turns the coldest water they have in the Catskills all over my head."

"I figure the cards are just what I need. If I can get some run off here after when Angelo spreads the clean towel out and pulls out the stool and says, 'All ready, sir,' with that devilish glint in his eye, I'll hand him one of these cards, with 'Not too cold' printed on it, and see that he reads it before I duck my head an inch."

Trickery Proven

Two brothers, who were long rivals for golfing honors, determined to settle the matter by playing just one hole on the course, in the early morning. Richard hit a beautiful 200-yard drive. Tom was "fussed" and got a bad slice, the ball disappearing in high grass. Both searched for the missing ball.

After looking five minutes Richard said, "Well, time is up. Lost ball, lost hole."

Tom stily dropped a ball out of his pocket on the grass. "Oh, here's my ball," he said.

Richard turned back with amazement on his face. "That's not your ball," he said, wrathfully. "I have the ball that you drove in my pocket, and it's been there ever since."—Kansas City Star.

Old Belief Wrong

The Department of Agriculture says that in some regions certain organisms belonging to the genus Gordius, and somewhat resembling horse hairs, are not uncommon. They get into the water by leaving insects and other small organisms, in which they have previously lived. They go into the water for the purpose of mating and depositing the eggs. The latter are microscopic, and give rise to microscopic young ones in enormous numbers, some of which later find their way into suitable hosts and grow to the size of so-called hair snakes. This all takes place inside the host insects or other small hosts. The hairs from the mane and tail of a horse will not, however, come to life in water.

Coconut as Ball

Students in the Bahama islands play basketball with coconuts for balls. H. Bradley Fenno, who went to the islands for his health a few years ago, is responsible for the development of the sport even with this crude start. When no basketball was available from the sporting goods stores, Fenno obtained an over-ripe coconut which is several times the size of a coconut at maturity, very light and empty, and organized a game. The native basketball has been used widely ever since.

George's wife found a blonde hair on the lapel of his coat. In a fit of jealousy she demanded explanations. "You see, my dear, that is last year's coat," said George, "and if you remember correctly your hair was blonde then instead of brown. I didn't change the color of your hair, did I?" Wife was so taken back she forgot George had worn that same coat four times since her curls resumed their natural shade.—Better Busses

CLEAR FIELD FOR EVANS IN SENATE RACE

Eight southern members of the Republican State Central committee met Tuesday in Alhambra to organize the 66th and 69th assembly districts, which comprise the 35th senatorial district.

Morris M. Ferguson, Los Angeles, was named chairman, with James Richardson, Monrovia, secretary.

The organization committee chosen is Spencer Hudson, Alhambra; P. A. Cassidy, Hollenbeck Heights; and A. J. Walker, Monrovia. The credentials committee is J. V. Schofield, Huntington Park, C. J. O'Connor, Monrovia and L. S. Porter, Altadena.

The endorsement of Herbert J. Evans of Monrovia as a candidate for the State Senate from the 35th senatorial district was moved by Mr. Pitzer of Alhambra and carried unanimously.

A letter from Johnathan S. Dodge former county supervisor, was read, pledging his support to Mr. Evans as a senatorial candidate.

It is thought probable by Republican leaders that Mr. Evans may not have any opposition in his coming political race.

ATTRACTIONS AT PALISADES

W. S. Hull and family went to the Pacific Palisades, north of Santa Monica, Saturday and got established for the rest of the summer.

Mr. Hull returned for business Monday at the Sierra Madre Hardware Co., and will spend Sundays with his family.

The Pacific Palisades is developing into a great institution, in many respects similar to the original Chautauque, in New York. All through the summer there is a succession of summer schools, institutes and conferences, which are available for those who go there for a day, a week, or longer.

GIRLS PICNIC AT BROOKSIDE

The Campfire Girls numbering twelve, with Mrs. Milton Steinberger, their official Guardian, spent a happy afternoon and evening yesterday at Brookside Park. After a fine swim they were ready for the picnic supper, followed by sports through the early evening and return home at 8 o'clock. A freezer of ice cream provided by Mrs. Steinberger was a particularly fine feature. The next outing will take place on August 14 and will be a 2-day outing in the mountains.

Do Snakes Sting?

Snakes cannot "sting," but they bite. Possibly one reason why people speak about the sting of a snake is because formerly there was some confusion on the point. Shakespeare makes this error many times—as, for instance, in the familiar line, "What wouldst thou have a serpent sting thee twice?" Strictly speaking, it should be "bite thee twice."

Must Pay the Collectors

The suburbanite was ululating his usual dirge about his income tax. "What does the government do with all the money they collect from us?" sympathetically asked his wife. "Why, that's easy," said the suburbanite. "They pay it to the collectors for collecting it."

Christ Elected King

In 1527 Christ was elected king of Florence, a small independent state in Italy. The election was by actual ballot.

WILD ANIMALS COMING DOWN INTO THE CITY

Wild animals of various kinds have been coming down from the mountains and far into the settled portion of the city recently. A number of deer have been seen, and last week a young fawn tried to break into the chicken yard of W. E. Deutsch on West Laurel Avenue. Later it tried to make itself at home on the premises of Dr. Warden.

Coyotes which are seldom seen, but sometimes leave evidence of their depredations have been seen as far south as the corner of Highland and Sunnyside. They also took their toll in the chicken yard of M. J. Thompson on North Sunnyside.

Drying up of streams and springs is supposed to have driven animals in unusual numbers to venture away from their mountain habitat.

"JUDGE NOT" IS FEATURE FOR SUNDAY NIGHT

The Sunday evening meetings in the Wistaria theatre seem to be filling a community need. Fine audiences have characterized the venture and the services are distinctly religious.

The motion picture for next Sunday is a five-reel film entitled "Judge Not." It portrays the wrong done to men and women by heartless gossip and thoughtless criticism and the ultimate victory of the innocent victims who are loyal to truth and right. You will make your friends your debtors if you make known to them the attractive character of the services.

MOVIE REVUE COMING FOR NIGHT ONLY

The management of the Colonial Theater has secured for its patrons, for one night only, Tuesday, July 22nd, an engagement extraordinary of the famous Hollywood Players who present for your approval, "Movieland." It is a musical revue of life in and around a motion picture studio, featuring Milburn Moranti and Gene Voltaire, with the famous Hollywood bathing, Beauties and a large cast of celebrities. This is a musical comedy of motion picture life in Hollywood. New songs, new dances, new scenery, new costumes and a bevy of beautiful girls and funny comedians with the regular show of pictures. Yes, it's a real treat.

LIVING GOD IS SERMON TOPIC

The Congregational Church is now on its summer schedule. There is no evening service in the church during July and August. The League of Youth, however, are conducting a service in the Wistaria Theatre at seven-thirty.

Dr. Tate preaches Sunday morning on "The Living God." A cordial invitation is extended to all strangers and summer visitors to attend the morning service. A special feature of this service is the children's sermon and the invitation is to the children as well as to adults.

DR. G. S. BOVARD RETURNS FROM SPLENDID TRIP

Dr. Gilbert S. Bovard returned on Sunday from a six weeks trip to Chicago, having stopped on the way west in Colorado and the Yellowstone National Park. While in Chicago he attended the convention of the American Medical Association as well as various clinics conducted by leading men of the profession.

While visiting his parents, Dr. and Mrs. W. S. Bovard of Evanston, Dr. Bovard had the pleasure of attending commencement at Northwestern University. His sister, Miss Alice May Bovard, graduated with honors. Between her junior and senior years she held a scholarship which gave her a year in Paris with special advantages for study in languages.

Dr. Bovard's arrival in Chicago was very timely. Almost at the same time his brother, Burton Bovard, an attorney of Indianapolis, had been brought to the city with a badly infected hand which it was thought would have to be amputated. Prompt attention by a leading surgeon saved all but a portion of the index finger and Dr. Bovard was able to continue treatment until the two brothers were able to enjoy a round of golf before parting.

DO YOU LOOK FOR NUMBERS IN WANTADS

Have you looked to see if your auto license number or telephone number is in the Wantads? You may have missed a pair of free tickets to the Wistaria Theatre. Look now before you forget it.

If you don't believe people read the Wantads you would be surprised how quickly those free tickets are called for. Two weeks ago W. L. Hibbs of 249 Ramona inquired at the News office before dark on Friday. He had not read the paper but someone else had told him about his phone number being listed. Last Friday just as the editor was locking up the office Mrs. Frank Sharp of 269 W. Laurel called for the tickets offered to Black 177.

Auto numbers are harder to identify. It took S. R. G. Twycross a week to find out that the lucky license number was his and he could have two tickets for nothing. Last week the tickets were offered to No. 131,994 and they have not been called for yet? Are they yours?
